

JAPANESE LOSSES.

Their Casualties in the Battles at Liao Yang Are Estimated at 17,539 Men.

THE RUSSIAN LOSS OVER 25,000.

The Japanese Are Reported to Be in Full Possession of the Yang-tsi Coal Mines.

Japanese Intrenchments Line the Hills in Every Direction at Port Arthur, and Reinforcements Are Constantly Arriving.

Tokio, Sept. 12.—An approximation of the Japanese casualties in the battle of Liao Yang, based upon reports of the chiefs of the medical corps of the three Japanese armies, was concluded Sunday. It covers the fighting from August 26, and shows that the killed and wounded amount to 17,539 men, divided as follows:

In the right army, under the command of Gen. Kuroki, 4,866 men; in the center army, under the command of Gen. Nodzu, 4,992 men, and in the left army, under the command of Gen. Oku, 7,681 men. These casualties include 136 officers killed and 464 officers wounded. The fact that the army under Gen. Oku sustained the heaviest losses is accounted for by its assaults upon the Russian defenses to the south of Liao Yang.

Telegraphic report received here Sunday from the headquarters of the Manchurian army declare the Japanese to be in full possession of the Yangtial coal mines, and estimate the Russian loss to the fall of Liao Yang at over 25,000 men. The estimate of losses does not include those suffered by the Russians in the rear guard actions fought after the evacuation of Liao Yang.

Chefoo, Sept. 12.—A Chinese officer who left Port Arthur the night of September 6, arrived here Sunday and reports that Japanese troops to the number of 5,000 control Louisa bay. He says the Japanese are making use of a balloon, which he describes as a cigar-shaped affair with a car suspended, and says that a "fat foreigner, wearing a mustache," runs the balloon.

The Japanese entrenchments line the hills in every direction and reinforcements are constantly arriving from Port Dalny. The Japanese hospitals at Port Dalny are filled with wounded, and transports are engaged in removing the wounded to Japan as fast as possible.

Chefoo, Sept. 12.—The story of the happenings before Port Arthur of the past 10 days, according to the Novikr, is one of bombardments, outpost clashes and reconnoitering exploits. Copies of the Novikr dated September 5, 6 and 7, received here Sunday are devoted almost exclusively to a recital of the details of these occurrences. Russian activity on the northeast front, which included Rihlugshan and Kikwanshan, is noted by the paper, and the inference is drawn that an attack in that quarter is expected.

The bombardments of the Pail-chuang fort, which is only 300 yards from Kihlungshan, are frequent. The Russians are trying desperately to retard the farther strengthening of this position.

NEW THEATER OPENED.

It is on the Site of the Music Hall, Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—The new Hopkins theater, situated on the site of the Music hall, the scene of the famous Goebel convention, opened its doors Sunday night. The theater, which has the largest seating capacity of any in Louisville, was built in strict conformity with the city ordinances regulating the construction of theaters. A wall of masonry 21 inches thick and extending four feet above the roof of the building, separates the house proper from the stage, which can be instantly cut off by an asbestos curtain. In addition to ample fire apparatus, there is an immense spray over the stage for emergency use. There are numerous exits on the three floors, all operated by one electric button, and fire escapes six feet in width extend from the upper floors entirely to the ground. The dynamos which operate the exit lights form a separate plant, as the city ordinance requires that these lights burn continuously.

MOTHER CAME FROM MASS.

She Was Horrified to Find Her Baby Burned to Death.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—Charles Nold, the four-year-old son of Charles W. Nold, of 2101 West Walnut street, was burned to death Sunday morning while attempting to reach a matchsafe on the wall by climbing upon a gas range. Mrs. Nold had gone to mass and Mr. Nold, who was dressing in an adjoining room, was attracted by the cries of the child. He rushed into the kitchen and saw the little boy standing upon the range a mass of flames. He lifted the child to the floor and with his hands tore away the burning clothes. The brave effort of the father to save his son was unavailing, for the flames had done their work before he heard the screams.

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 12.—Robert Shropshire, colored, employed for the past 17 years as carriage driver for the family of Judge James E. Cantrill, was arrested for theft, and when his home was searched the police made a rich haul.

He had probably been robbing the palatial Cantrill home for many years. Among the plunder found by the police was almost every article imaginable, from jewelry to furniture.

DISASTROUS FLOOD

The Rio Grande River is on the Worst Rampage in Its History.

DESTRUCTION OF CROPS IS HEAVY.

More Than 100 Houses Including the Customs House at Presidio Del Norte Washed Away.

The Waters Are Said to Have Swept Away Whole Settlements of Dwellings Between Presidio Del Norte and Bouquillas.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 12.—A special from Alpine, Tex., says:

The Rio Grande is on the worst rampage in its history, and great destruction of property has already occurred at Presidio Del Norte, Ojinio and many other smaller settlements situated on both sides of the river for a distance of 300 miles along its course. The valley is narrow along the river through the great bend region of Texas, and the losses by destruction of crops there will not be heavy. According to information Sunday from a mounted courier, who came direct from Presidio Del Norte, more than 100 houses of that town, including the United States customs house, were washed away by the flood. The flood is said to have swept away whole settlements of houses occupied by Mexicans between Presidio Del Norte and Bouquillas.

No reports of loss of life have been received. The valley south of Del Rio is wide, and in a high state of cultivation. It is also thickly populated. Heavy property losses will occur when the flood reaches there. A warning has been issued to the settlers below, and they are busy moving out of the valley, and preparing for the expected inundation.

FOUND DEAD BY A WATCHMAN.

Superintendent of the Dead Letter Office Probably Suicided.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The dead body of David P. Leibhardt, 60, the superintendent of the dead letter office of the postoffice department, was found Sunday night by one of the watchmen, who was making his rounds just after midnight. Evidently it was a case of suicide, for there was a bullet hole in the right temple, and a pistol, with one or more barrels discharged, lay on the floor beside him. Mr. Leibhardt was a native of Indiana, from which state he was appointed to the post office department.

THE STOCKYARDS STRIKE.

All Probability of Complications Was Removed Sunday.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—All probability of complications at the stockyards was removed Sunday, when the packing house teamsters voted to return to work Monday morning. The offer of the packers to take back now as many teamsters as are needed and to hire the others as necessity demands, was made known through a committee that had visited the packers, and the proposition was accepted without opposition. The packers were at once notified that the men would report at 6 o'clock Monday.

The decrease in pay will be from 2 to 13 per cent. The most skilled workers will suffer the greatest reductions.

BRITISH POLITICS.

Irish Nationalist Party in a Fair Way to Control the Parliament.

Boston, Sept. 12.—John E. Redmond, the Irish leader in the British house of commons, declared Sunday night at a crowded mass meeting in the Boston theater, that in view of the present complex political situation in Great Britain, the Irish nationalists party is in a fair way to control the next British parliament. This would be due, he explained, to the complications arising from the stand taken by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and his followers on the question of free trade.

A TRAGIC ENDING.

Eight Out of a Dozen Pleasure Seekers Were Drowned in the Delaware River.

LAUNCH RUN DOWN BY A STEAMER

The Big Vessel Struck the Little Boat in the Middle Cutting It in Half.

It is Believed That Several of the Victims Were Crushed to Death by the Paddle Wheel of the Steamboat.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The Delaware steamer Columbia, on its way from this city to Bristol, Pa. Sunday night, crashed into a steam launch about 10 miles north of here, grinding it to pieces and causing the drowning of eight of the dozen occupants of the small boat. All of the party were Philadelphians.

The dead are: Joseph Fortescue, owner of the launch; Wade Auday, Thomas Duffy, Thomas Corvesel, Anna Young, Joseph Pfrommer, Mrs. Joseph Pfrommer and Engineer Jas. Briggs.

The accident was the tragic ending of a day's pleasure trip on the river. The launch, which was owned by Joseph Fortescue, and the party, had been made up from among a few of his friends. The day was spent in a cruise up the river as far as Trenton. The return trip was begun after nightfall, the pilot of the boat keeping close to the Pennsylvania shore on the run down the river. When a point was reached near Andalusia, the Columbia suddenly loomed up on the darkness. Fortescue jammed his wheel to starboard, but just a moment too late. The big steamer struck the launch squarely in the middle, and cut it in half, throwing all the occupants into the water.

A terrible shriek went up as the boats struck, which almost caused a panic among the passengers on the Columbia. Dozens of life preservers were thrown overboard to those in the water and a boat was quickly lowered. When the rowboat reached the spot only four persons could be found in the darkness. It is believed that several victims were crushed by the paddle wheels on the Columbia.

The four taken from the water are Thomas and Mrs. Dunn, John Heston and George Young.

The survivors of the launch claim the launch was burning the necessary river lights, as does also Capt. Campbell. The latter declared Sunday night that the accident was unavoidable.

TRAIN HELD UP AND ROBBED.

The Bandits Secured Between $4,000 and $6,000.

St. Paul, Sept. 12.—A special from Winnipeg, Man., says: "At 9:30 p. m. Saturday the Canadian Pacific west-bound Continental express was held up by four masked men in the woods, four and a half miles west of Mission Junction. Three of the men crawled over the tender of the locomotive, and at the points of revolvers ordered Engineer Scott to stop the train, which he did. The express messenger was compelled to open the express car. From the safe the robbers secured $4,000 or $5,000 in gold dust, and about $1,000 in currency. The mail clerks were similarly compelled to open the mail car, which was relieved of its contents of registered mail sacks."

J. R. ROBERTSON, Chairman. Gordon Sulser, Sec.

DEFIANCE of law is a marked characteristic of the Roosevelt administration. The latest defier is Postmaster General Payne, who refused to appear in court as a witness when summoned to do so by the proper officer.

THERE is no doubt that the beef trust has the best of us for a while, for although the agents of the Government have been investigating it for some time, the only result is a check in five figures to the Republican campaign fund.

SENATOR CONNOR's sharp and incisive retort on Secretary Taft's speech about President Roosevelt's conservatism is going the rounds of the press. He said: "It was uttered purely for publication and not as a guarantee of good faith."

THE fact that nearly all of the independent newspapers of the United States are for Judge Parker is very significant as to the sentiment of the great independent vote of the country, which holds the balance of power in national elections.

FIFTY years ago an American squadron under Perry opened, by diplomatic measures, the gates of Japan. They began the education of the Jap in statesmanship and war. He has turned to good account the lessons then learned. It is needless to say that while this was an epochal opening to civilization, the occasion was made complete by the presence of the inevitable "man from Maysville," who is still living to tell the wondrous story and to enjoy in a modest way the distinction of having helped to civilize the indomitable Jap. We refer to that amiable and accomplished gentleman Colonel Fred Bierbower, who was probably the youngest officer in the famous expedition.

THE editor of the Owensboro Inquirer has a $5,000 libel suit on hand which he has to defend in the courts. A fellow by the name of Ben Benham had been indicted on a couple of counts for gambling. The Inquirer in making out and publishing a list of the cases to be tried, by some slip of the pen, or displacement of words, stated that Benham had been indicted for false swearing. It was simply a typographical error, such as is liable to occur in any well regulated newspaper office. Adams did not know Benham from Moses' off ox, knew nothing either for or against the fellow, had no wish, desire or intention to injure the man who was indicted for gambling. The editor did not know until notice was served on him in the way of papers announcing the suit, that any one had been misrepresented. He was not asked to make any correction of the misstatement.

Some briefless lawyer or firm of lawyers of Owensboro, The Lexington Herald says, who are on the lookout for cases, who have not enough merit to attract attention, make it a business to be on the lookout for just such cases as this. These lawyers can be found at almost every county seat. They are the vultures of the profession. If they lose their case they lose nothing but their time, which is not valuable; if they gain anything in the suit, it is just that much picked up. There are thousands of suits brought in which there is no merit whatever. It seems that there ought to be some law by which when these irresponsible bring suit against those who are responsible, that the one or ones bringing the suits ought to be made to give bond for the costs in the case. Any one who becomes offended at some mistake of a newspaper, or feels aggrieved at some corporation or individual, can bring suit in almost any sum named. It matters not how little merit there may be in the suit, it has to be defended at a loss of time and money. Some radical changes are needed in the law of the State in reference to libel and damage.

Right Trusses.

There should be no guess-work about trusses. They have an important mission. They must do what they should or they are worse than none. Many are sacrificing comfort and safety by wearing ill-fitting trusses. Others who might be cured by a rightly fitting truss are using none. Those we carry are, we believe, the right ones. Can be fitted perfectly and exert a steady, even pressure. Wear well and can't easily get out of order.

Save Your Daughter

No. 155 West 84th Street, New York City, N. Y., April 8, 1903.

Wine of Cardui has been a blessing to my home. I have often found that it was a great relief when I was weary or in pain, but I am especially grateful for what it did for our daughter and only child. I noticed that her menses were tardy and she suffered with headaches and giddiness, heaviness in the abdomen and about the loins. This seriously interfered with her studies and she had to discontinue several of them.

A visitor calling on me and discussing the matter suggested that I give her a course of your Wine of Cardui as it had relieved her daughter of a similar trouble. After my daughter had used it for five weeks I found a great improvement in her looks, health and behavior, in fact she was a different girl. The flow became regular and we have not had any difficulty since.

WINE OF CARDUI

Here the menstrual function had not been properly started and the unnatural condition was making the young girl an invalid. The headaches and giddiness, indicated something more than a mere temporary ailment. They were symptoms of a functional weakness which would become more and more aggravated as years went by. But Mrs. Thompson was ready to take advice for her daughter's welfare and she gave the little sufferer Wine of Cardui and now she is a well young woman.

If your daughter is sickly and frequently ailing the letter of this good mother contains the best advice you can follow.

Wine of Cardui is the menstrual regulator that cures nine cases out of every ten. Young girls, mothers and aged women find this tonic indispensable. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

During the Confederate reunion at Lexington about twenty members of the Orphan Brigade from Fayette and adjoining counties held a meeting and formed an organization, electing Ed. Spears of Paris, President, and H. C. Payne of Fayette County, Secretary. THE ANTI-RUMMANS CROWD

Control the Republican Mass Meeting to Select Delegates to the District Convention at Cynthiana.

Ex-State Senator J. D. Rummans' political enemies had their inning Saturday. Their opportunity for revenge was slow in coming, but after ten years the tables were turned and the portly gentleman who knocked Editor Davis' Congressional aspirations sky-high a decade ago was thrown down.

The Republicans of the county met in mass convention at the court house in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to select delegates to the Congressional convention to be held at Cynthiana next Thursday.

Chairman W. E. Stallcup called the meeting to order and the convention immediately settled down to business. It seemed to be the intention at the outset to make the session short and sweet and the faithful succeeded admirably in carrying out their ideas of harmony.

Editor Thomas A. Davis was chosen Temporary Secretary. He took the chair and called for nominations for Temporary Chairman. Mr. Harry Walsh and Mayor Stallcup were named for the honor. A division of the house showed that everything had been "cut and dried" and the latter won hands down.

Mr. Andrew January was elected Permanent Secretary.

The Chair appointed Messrs C. C. Hopper, M. C. Hutchins and Logan Marshall a committee to present a set of resolutions and name delegates to attend the district convention.

The trio wasted no time in conference and Mr. Hutchins came to the front with the usual flowery Presidential endorsements. The Major dwelt with considerable fervor on the paragraph detailing the accomplishments of the McKinley-Roosevelt administration.

The list of delegates include about every Republican in the county. Captain Hutchins did spy an old voter who happened to be missed, and after a mental effort Postmaster Mathews remembered two more. These were added to the already lengthy document, and if anybody got left it is certainly not the fault of the committee.

The delegates go to Cynthiana uninstructed.

Senator Rummans, who is one of the aspirants for the nomination, was an interested onlooker and seemed to be not surprised at the action of the convention in sending an uninstructed delegation. He claims that fully eight out of ten of the active Republicans in the county were for him twenty-four hours before the meeting, but that many of them, knowing of the desire of certain leaders to send an unhampered delegation, asked to be released from their obligation to him, a request he readily granted, in the interest of "harmony."

The situation can be sized up about this way: Mr. W. D. Cochran of this city can get the nomination if he wishes it, but we understand his hands are so tied that it is doubtful whether or not he could accept. Senator Cox evidently does not want to make the sacrifice, and Mr. Rummans may be permitted to go up against the invincible Kehoe in November. It is not unlikely, however, that "Morg's" barrel will win out in the end. We understand the Judge has proffered $12,000 for campaign purposes if he is permitted to name the nominee. If this is true, the chronic office-seeker from Lewis, Son-in-law Pugh, will be "it" without a struggle.

DUSKY AMAZONS FIGHT.

Female Warriors Engage in a Lively Battle at Second Street and Grave Alley Sunday Morning.

Bad bocce got a bunch of chocolate cream colored damsels into the "House of Trouble" Sunday before noon.

The racket occurred at the intersection of Grave alley with Second street.

Della Moore, the Maud Muller of the avenue, Rachel Clayton, the musk-scented Queen of the neighborhood, and Carrie Hester Warner, who has an ingrown hankering after trouble, were the principals in a lively battle with cobblestones. As the fight progressed, the crowd of non-combatants increased and a stench of sulphur filled the air for a couple of blocks.

As the colossal form of the "Big Chief" appeared around the corner, the amazons saw their finish and attempted a retreat but officer Ryan's flanking movement compelled a surrender.

The trio will face Judge Whittaker and the "Book of Fate" this afternoon at 2 o'clock and do penance for their Sabbath diversion.
